LINDBERGH HEADS TRAIN AND PLANE SERVICE OVER U. S.

Accepts Position Today
Of Technical Chief
Of Corporation

SALARY HAS NOT BEEN ANNOUNCED

Will Devote All of His Time to New Job; Gets Block of Stock

New York, May 23.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, at the offices of the trans-Continental Airways, today confirmed the announcement made by the company that he would serve in an advisory capacity in connection with their proposed plane-train passenger service from New York to the Pacific coast.

Lindbergh added, however, that he had not become a member of the company, and stated that he had no contract with them.

"I'm going to assist them in every way I can, in the organization of routes, and in other technical details," he said, in praising the project as an important and practical development of aviation.

New York, May 23.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today gave new and practical impetus to the development of aviation in the United States by accepting a position as technical head of the newly-formed Trans-Continental Air Transport, Inc., a $5,000,000 corporation which will establish a coast-to-coast train and plane service, cutting the traveling time from New York to Los Angeles to 48 hours, or exactly in half.

"Lindbergh" title is "chairman of the technical committee."

His salary has not been announced, although it is said to be extremely liberal. It is believed, too, that he has been given a generous block of stock. He will devote all his time to the new job.

Will Chase All Equipment

All matters concerning choice of equipment, fields, general service, flying routes and safety appliances will come under the authority of the committee of which Lindbergh is the head. The president of the company is C. M. Keys, who is also president of the Curtis Aeroplane and Motor corporation.

The railroad identified with "Lindbergh" new company are the Pennsylvania and the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe. The two air-plane companies involved are the Curtis company and the Wright Aeronautical corporation.

The technical committee which Lindbergh will head will be composed of practical aviation men.

ROSENBAUM CASE WORK CONTINUES

Fail to Find Clue After Dragging Lake Glacier
For Missing Girl

Youngstown, May 23.—Police will continue work on the Beatrice Rosenbaum case until some trace of the missing girl is found.

This was the gist of a statement issued today by Wallace Metcalfe, chief of the city's vice squad, directing the search for the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Rosenbaum, who mysteriously disappeared from her home here nine days ago.

Metcalfe's statement was in answer to circulated reports that police would abandon the hunt.

Dragging of Lake Glacier in Mill Creek park and draining of a South Side park swimming pool Tuesday failed to reveal any clue in connection with the girl's disappearance, police announced today.

The Board of Home Missions of the Reformed church which has contributed in a large financial measure to the First Reformed church at Lisbon, has released the Lisbon church and Rev. O. J. Harvli who has been the pastor for the last three years, is retiring from the charge.

For the present he will have no successor, although the church will continue its Sunday school work.

Rev. Harvli delivered his last sermon in this church last Sunday, and is now arranging to leave Lisbon. It was stated by the minister today that it is generally considered by the congregation of this church that the Lisbon community is over-churching, and that while the people of this church have strong denominational unities, they have felt

Where 197 Died

Bluefield, W. Va., May 23.—Thirteen bodies have been recovered and four other men are missing in an explosion that wrecked the No. 1 mine of the Yukon-Pocahontas Coal company at Yukon, McDowell county, last night, according to messages received today.

Rescue crews were penetrating the deeper recesses of the mine in an effort to locate the missing.

Bluefield, W. Va., May 23.—Seven men were killed and one miner is missing in a dust explosion that wrecked the No. 30 mine of the Black Mountain Coal corporation at Kenvir, Ky., according to a telephone report received here from the company offices today. Mine rescue crews from the U. S. Coal & Coke Co., at Lynch, Ky., were said to have recovered the bodies and another crew from Norton, Va., is assisting.

About 75 miners were caught in the mine shaft last night just after the night shift had relieved the day men.

Start Investigations

Mather, Pa., May 23.—While rescue crews probed their way through the debris-strewn Mather colliery here today in search of the last of the bodies of 197 victims of Saturday's explosion, Ira Thomas, chief deputy of the State Bureau of Mines made plans for the official investigation into the cause of the blast.

The state's investigation will be held with the co-operation of the Greene county coroner's office and officials of the Federal Bureau of Mines, thus doing away with the necessity of other probes.

Reports from time to time today indicated that rescue crews had located many of the remaining bodies in the mine, but were forced to dig away debris under which the men were buried.

The formal investigation will begin as soon as the bodies are recovered and debris cleared away to allow Thomas, 21 state deputies, federal experts and the coroner's jury to enter the recesses of the mines.

URGES HALT ON SENATE PROBES

Investigations Advanced
Personal Ambitions,
Says Hammond

Atty. H. W. Hammond of Columbus, speaking before the Rotary club Tuesday noon, declared it is time to call a halt on senate investigation of everything that is done.

If investigations are to be made, Hammond suggested, that they be directed by some judicial tribunal which would get at the facts and not advertise some politician. He charged that most of the senate investigations are conducted to advance some senator's personal ambitions.

Hammond gave an interesting review of the life of Alexander Hamilton, emphasizing the part he played in framing the constitution of the United States and then working for its adoption. He contended that if concessions had not been made at that time, the Civil War would have been averted. He concluded by declaring that it is time to get back to the principles of the Hamiltonian union.

Charles McCorkhill, chairman of the club's entertainment committee, who introduced the speaker, announced that Congressman James T. Begg of Sandusky will be the speaker next Tuesday noon. Members of the Kiwanis club and other guests will be invited.

The entertainment committee is arranging for a party for members and their ladies, to be held Tuesday evening, June 12. A dinner will be followed by a theater party in Youngstown.

Tuesday afternoon they visited several manufacturing plants and went through various public buildings.

They like Salem very much and declared that it is one of the finest cities of its size which they have seen from coast to coast.

AVIATOR BURNS TO DEATH; YOUTH SERIOUSLY HURT

Plane Falls At Sandusky
And Bursts Into Flame,
Killing Pilot

Sandusky, May 23.—Walter Anderson, 26, Richmond, Ind., was burned to death and Benjamin Ruser, 17, Sandusky, is in a serious condition at Good Samaritan hospital here, the result of an airplane crash at Sandusky Airport today.

Anderson, professional aviator, came here 10 days ago to re-enter the employ of Parker Brothers, proprietors of an aviation school. He had taken young Ruser, student aviator, along for a lesson when the machine suddenly fell into a tailspin at a height of about 1500 feet, according to witnesses.

The plane righted itself, again, spectators said, but hit the ground with terrific force and burst into flames. Ruser was pulled from the wreckage by Luther Parker, one of the owners of the plane, but Anderson was pinned in the cockpit and burned to a crisp.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 23.—G. M. Grey, a pilot for the Becker Flying service of this city, today was recovering from injuries sustained here last night in an airplane crash in which John Emmett Wisp, 30, an employee of the Curtis Airplane company, was killed.

The fliers' Jenny plane was demolished when it crashed in a field near here. Wisp sustained two broken legs, a broken arm and a fractured skull. He died while being taken to a hospital.

Sussex, N. J., May 23.—Virgil C. Kinney, 27, an automobile mechanic to whom flying seemed a "cinch," was dead here today as a result of over-confidence in his ability to pilot a plane.

Kinney bought an old monoplane and took a few lessons. Last night he went aloft without his instructor for the first time. He lost control of the plane, which dropped nose down from a height of 500 feet. The young flier was dead when a crowd of spectators reached the wrecked plane.

Kinney leaves a widow and four children.

M'NARY-HAUGEN BILL IS VETOED BECAUSE OF FEE

President Returns It To Congress With Sting-
ing Message Today

MAY NOT TRY TO PASS IT AGAIN

Coolidge Holds Measure Is Unconstitutional As It Is Drawn

Washington, May 23.—President Coolidge vetoed the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill today for the second time.

Ignoring the advice of the farm bloc in congress, and disregarding the threats of a grain belt revolt against the administration in the forthcoming election, Mr. Coolidge sent the famous measure back to the capitol without his signature, and accompanied it with a message explaining his reasons for disapproving it.

Although the bill had been modified considerably to meet presidential objections of a year ago it still contained the equalization fee, which Agrarian leaders characterize as the heart of the plan—and to which Mr. Coolidge has been unwilling in his opposition.

In view of the short time remaining of the present session of congress it is not anticipated that the bill can be passed over the veto. It is not even certain that an effort will be made to do so, for some of the rebellious backers of the bill have declared their intention to let the party stand the onus of its defeat.

Long Veto Message

The presidential message of repugnance was one of the longest he has ever sent to congress, covering some 24 printed pages, which also included an opinion by the attorney-general.

At the outset, Mr. Coolidge declared that the bill "is unconstitutional" and then he proceeded at length to outline and explain his reasons for again disapproving it.

"The bill," he said, "contains not only the so-called equalization fee and other features of the old measure, but also new and highly objectionable provisions."

"In its entirety, it is little less undesirable than the earlier measure. This bill is unconstitutional. This position is supported by the

Italia Is Now Flying Toward North Pole

Weather Not Perfect But
Nobile Decides Start
Should Be Made

King's Bay, Spitzbergen, May 23.—Bound for the North pole on its second venture over the uncharted wastes of the frozen arctic, the dirigible Italia left its base here at 4:40 a. m. today.

Although weather conditions were not perfect, General Umberto Nobile, commander of the ship, felt that they were sufficiently favorable to allow him to start.

As the huge silver-sheened craft nosed its way upward through a murky haze the crew of the supply ship Città di Milano, and natives who had come miles to watch the dirigible's departure, cheered enthusiastically and wished the intrepid air-voyagers godspeed.

Before starting, General Nobile announced that he first planned to cruise to the top of Greenland. From there, he said, he would head for the North pole.

Just before Nobile climbed into the control car of the Italia, the padre of the Città di Milano blessed the cross which will be dropped from the ship when it reached the pole.

Nobile and his crew of 15 smiled confidently and waved to their well-wishers as the ship sailed slowly into space. It soon gathered speed and altitude and after some 15 or 20 minutes it disappeared in the clouds.

When the Italia reaches the pole, it is expected an attempt will be made to land several members of the crew to make scientific observations, if weather conditions permit.

MURDER CHARGES AGAINST SLAYER

Man Who Slashed Throat
Of Illegitimate Baby
Will Be Held

Dayton, May 23.—Authorities here today prepared to file a first degree murder charge against Edward Linden 37, of Avon, O., who yesterday killed his eight-month-old illegitimate daughter, by cutting her throat, and then attempted to end his own life and that of his woman companion, Mrs. Clara Balmert, 31, by the same method.

Physicians at the hospital where Linden and Mrs. Balmert are being treated announced that both of the persons will recover. It was following this announcement that authorities prepared to file first degree murder charge against Linden.

The Linden children are: Florence, who is almost three years of age, Matilda, 10, Charles 8, Henry 5 and Ruth 5. Two of the children, Florence and Matilda were living with their mother at the Dayton apartment. The other three are said to be in the Sailors and Soldiers Home at Xenia, Florence, the youngest of the children, witnessed the murder yesterday.

Many improvements have been made at the park during the last year. Trees have been planted by Kiwanis club, flowers planted and general improvements made. The tennis courts were opened last week.

The entrance to the park has been made attractive, and the entire park is suitable for picnics, reunions and other gatherings.

ROGERS IS CANDIDATE OF "BUNKLESS" PARTY

Will Chooes to Run for Presidency, Life Announces;
Humorist Would Save Vice President's Salary

New York, May 23.—Will Rogers, the cowboy humorist, has chosen to run for the presidency.

He will make the race as the candidate of a "bunkless" party, it was announced today.

If elected he would be the first president in 62 years who was funny intentionally, his backers assert.

They admit he is qualified for the high office and will himself does not deny it.

Rogers' friends point with pride to the fact that he is a veteran of 13 campaigns with the Ziegfeld Follies, which is something that can't be said for other candidates.

They view with alarm the rising cost of government and assert that, if elected, the genial Rogers will save the country money.

For one thing he declines to have a running mate on the theory that the office of vice-president is an expensive superfluity, whatever that is.

"If elected," said Rogers, clearing his throat, "I'll do the work of both president and vice-president for one salary, thereby saving the government the vice-presidential salary of $15,000 a year."

"Fifteen thousand berries is not to be scoffed at, even by the United States government."

Fourteen well-known Americans, including Henry Ford, Nicholas Murray Butler, General William Mitchell, Judge Ben B. Lindsey and William Allen White, are acting as backers and endorsers of Rogers' candidacy, according to Life, the humorous weekly which today announced the tossing of Will's sombrero into the political arena.

Will himself, it was stated, will make a formal speech of acceptance next week.

GETTING ARRESTED

George W. Martin, a New York lawyer, writes interestingly in the Forum for June regarding the ordinary citizen—innocent or guilty—finds himself when placed under arrest. Assuming that his statement of facts is correct, and we have no reason for questioning any of them, and know that many of them are well founded, he offers an awful indictment of the methods pursued by the police and prosecutors' departments of the larger cities and possibly in many cities of lesser size.

"Let us consider the position of one accused of a serious crime—particularly if the crime is notorious, or represented by the tabloid newspapers as having a dash of sex in it," Mr. Martin says in part. "If you are a widow, like Mrs. Hall, you may expect to be arrested by state troopers at midnight—although the crime is two years old—and locked in a cell; or taken forcibly to the scene and compelled to participate in a rehearsal of the event. But if you are a mere man, your position is far more parlous. If the police are ordinary police, you will be interrogated, howled at, and threatened by relays of detectives for 36 hours continuously without food, sleep, or access to a toilet. If you do not sign the confession which has been drawn up in writing, you will then be beaten with a hose or a blackjack. Under this treatment, a perfectly innocent school teacher in Chicago, confessed to the murder of which Messrs. Leopold and Loeb were afterward convicted. If you have the ill luck to be a Chinaman—as in a recent case reviewed by the supreme court of the United States—the torture may be expected to continue for seven days and nights. If you are well advised, you sign any confession offered at once, and put your trust in a jury.

"In any case, you are then thrown in jail to rot while the district attorney gives interviews to the press and scours the countryside for evidence and witnesses, the police rehearse their parts, and your wounds get less conspicuous; for it would never do to let you come into the courtroom in your present state. Meanwhile your confession is published, and every one except your lawyers is perfectly sure you are guilty."

It's an awful thought that human beings are treated, as Attorney Martin here holds out, in the name of law and justice, and yet many cases of such treatment of persons placed under arrest, and persons subsequently proved innocent, have been established. There is probably not a great city, great as a population center, in the land, whose record has not been blackened by such proceedings as set out in this Forum article.

For the last year or two we have been seeing much in type, and not without good cause, of the protection afforded by police and court officials to the guilty. It is time that we are seeing more in type, as well, about the protection of the innocent from police and court officials. And even the guilty, as this Forum writer intimates, should not be made to undergo the brutalities to which they often are compelled to submit. Not only our criminal laws, but the methods pursued by the police and prosecutors of our great population centers as well are in need of correction.

What Others Say

NEW PAPER MONEY

Reliable advices from Washington are that it will not be long before a new currency will make its appearance in circulation. Much has been printed about it and expectancy is widespread. The latest word about it comes from A. W. Hall, director of the bureau of engraving and printing. He says the presses are at work and the new bills are being printed by the tons. Soon they will be shipped from the bureau by the truck load to banks in all parts of the country to be put in circulation. They will reach the public by being paid out in place of old bills turned in at the banks and collected for shipment to Washington. The old, then, will be retired and destroyed. The printing is progressing rapidly. The smaller size of the new bills, approximately two-thirds the dimensions of the present ones, makes it possible, on the same presses to turn out twelve new ones to eight old ones.

Not only is the size changed but designs have been changed. This necessitated new plates. Such steel engraving is slow work and that has been the main cause of the long time consumed in the preparation of the new currency since that work was first announced to the public.

All designs have been simplified in some ways and complicated in others. Where there now are five kinds of $10 bills, there will be but one. Extra safeguards are provided against counterfeiting and raising. The silk threads have been abandoned and an infinite number of silk specks introduced, the change being effected by chopping minutely the long threads. One dollar bills have a design like no other bill of a higher denomination. Thus, a one-dollar bill can not be raised successfully to $100 because the $100 bill will have an entirely different design and a different portrait. For example, the one-dollar bill will carry Washington's face as now. The $100 bill will carry Franklin's face and a different back design. So each of the 11 denominations will bear different faces and have different designs on the backs.

Great economy in production is assured. Not only will the smaller size make possible a larger output from each press; there will be a saving of $40 tons of paper on each 1,000,000,000 bills of any denomination. A total saving of $2,000,000 a year is estimated.

This is the first change in the general style of our currency in more than 60 years, although it has been proposed from time to time since the currency the same size as this new product was printed about 20 years ago for circulation in the Philippine Islands. It will take up less space in bank vaults and in tellers' cages. More of it can be put in store and counting office tills. More of it can be put in one's pockets. Less cumbersome billfolds will be required.

On the whole, the change is being received with favor, as naturally is to be expected, since it was not determined on by the government until a full canvass had been made of banking and commercial opinions. Handlers of currency will have only 11 denominations to acquaint themselves with. All of these will be greenbacks. The yellow-backs will disappear with the final redemption of those now in circulation. The change is being made in the interest of currency simplification quite as much as a matter of economy.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

B. GENEVIEVE KEMBLE.

A CONGERIES of most benign planetary forces should give impetus to high achievement and many gratifying fulfillments of persistent effort and benevolent initiative. This splendid fruition of diligence and courage may be regarded as an unforeseen change of fortune and far reaching in its nature. It is a day for forging ahead bravely and for dealing with elderly persons and institutions. Some slight precaution with papers is urged.

Those whose birthday it is are assured of a year of fulfilled ambitions and rewards for faithful application and bold enterprise. A sudden and unforeseen change of importance is possible to cap gratifying culminations. Sign all writings cautiously. A child born on this day may be splendidly endowed with outstanding qualities for success in unusual lines and may have the stamina, initiative and persistency to push on to high goals.

WEANING THE INFANT
MOTHER'S BIG TASK

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, M. D., United States Senator from New York. Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Every week or so some young mother writes to ask advice about weaning her baby. She wants to know how to decide when it is time to take the infant off the breast and to give it the bottle.

The best evidence of this necessity is found in the time of year, but in the baby himself. If he is prospering and the mother is well, the weaning may continue. If all goes well it should be continued.

A normal, healthy infant gains from six ounces to a half pound in weight every week for the first year. Later, the gain is not so great. It may not exceed from three ounces to six ounces every week. So long as the child makes consistent gain, in about this ratio, there is no occasion for worry. All is well.

A healthy child sleeps most of the time. He is apt to fall asleep during his feeding, or immediately afterward. During the first half year of life he will be likely to sleep 20 hours every day. That is good for him.

If the feeding is ample and of good quality, the bowels act regularly. There will be no gas formation and no distress. Vomiting and severe crying are absent.

I wouldn't give a cent for a baby that never cried. There is something wrong with a vocally silent infant, just as there is with one that cries most of the time. The average expectation of crying in a healthy child is the sum total of an hour a day.

I have told you how to tell whether or not the infant is prospering. The reverse of the conditions I have mentioned will warn you that the child is not doing well. Then, of course, bottle feeding must be considered.

Fretfulness, crying, moaning and vocal protests for hours at a time are signs of trouble. Whining and crying during nursing are pretty sure signs of the lack of a nourishing supply of milk.

Vomiting, infrequent or over-frequent stools, and general appearance of ill-health are other evidences of the need of better feeding. These should not be overlooked.

Perhaps the best reason for taking the child off the breast and placing him on the bottle, is loss of weight, or persistent failure to gain weight. Just as gain in weight and strength are signs of well being, so the reverse is a sure reason for suspecting that the quality or quantity of the food may not be right. When the baby fails to progress physically it is time for bottle feeding.

Answers to Health Queries
H. G. H. Q.—What will help excessive perspiration—would an electric vibrator for massaging the feet be helpful?

A—Where perspiration is excessive the trouble can usually be traced to nerve disturbance. I doubt the vibrator would be of any great value. Try to get at the underlying cause of the condition. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

M. C. D. Q.—What causes a constant burning in the stomach and pain and gases after eating?
A—Due to indigestion and acidity. Correct your diet and be sure to avoid constipation. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

LIBRARY HAS BOOKS TO AID IN GARDENING

The Salem Public library is prepared to help home owners and flower lovers who are beginning to plant, propagate, or plant flower gardens. It has a 34 page booklet in which are recommended seven helpful books for the amateur gardener, has just been received.

The author of the booklet, Sydney B. Mitchell, is director of the School of Librarianship at the University of California, and at the same time an amateur gardener of long experience. His latest recognition was the award of the Dykes Memorial medal for the introduction of the best new American iris in 1927.

In the books he recommends for reading will be found answers to such questions as: "How shall I design a small garden?" "When and how shall I plant certain flowers?" "How can I achieve the most artistic combination of colors in individual flower beds and in the whole garden?" Wild flower gardening, spring and summer bulbous plants, the new and fascinating fad of rock gardening, and other phases of gardening are also discussed by the author.

"Why garden?" is the first question which Mr. Mitchell asks in his essay preceding the list of books recommended. But when the reader has finished he is ready to "shoulder arms" for a new adventure in the out-of-doors.

This is the 35th course to be published in the Reading with a Purpose series. These courses, covering a wide range of subjects, and the books recommended in each, are available at the Public library.

Cute in a Baby-Awful at Three—and it's Dangerous—by Ruth Brittain

Thumb sucking does look sweet in a baby, but it is disgusting in the three-year-old and sometimes it hangs on until fifteen or sixteen! The habit may cause an ill-formed mouth or induce adenoids; and it always interferes with digestion. Pinning the sleeve over the hand; attaching mittens; or putting on cardboard cuffs, which prevent bending the arms at the elbows, are some of the ways to stop the habit.

Another bad habit—irregularity in bowel action—is responsible for weak bowels and constipation in babies. Give the tiny bowels an opportunity to act at regular periods each day. If they don't act at first, a little Fletcher's Castoria will soon regulate them. Every mother should keep a bottle of it handy to use in case of colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, loss of sleep, or when baby is cross and feverish. Its gentle influence over baby's system enables him to get full nourishment from his food, helps him gain, strengthens his bowels.

Castoria is purely vegetable and harmless—the recipe is on the wrapper. Physicians have prescribed it for over 30 years. With each package, you get a valuable book on Motherhood. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper so you'll get the genuine. Adv.

OFFICIAL OHIO SONG IS WANTED

Statewide Contest Begun With First Prize To Be $500

Columbus, May 22.—Officers of the Know Ohio League today urged every Ohio composer and author to submit an official Ohio song in the statewide contest, ending Thursday, May 31, being conducted by the Ohio Federation of Music clubs. First prize in the contest is $500.

The contest, which opened some weeks ago, calls for a poem of four verses in lyric style, adaptable to an heroic, marching rhythm with the sentiment described as representing "the scenic beauty and grandeur of Ohio, with its varying features of lofty hills and flowing fields, forests, lakes and streams."

The lyrics must be in the mail by May 31 and sent to Mrs. Harry T. Rayner, chairman of the federation, 285 Lora ave., Youngstown.

"Ohio has more than 30 colleges with departments of music," Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of the Know Ohio League pointed out, "besides a host of privately operated musical schools. In the Cleveland and Cincinnati symphony orchestras, Ohio has two of the 13 first class symphony orchestras in the United States. In addition three other Ohio cities have symphony orchestras of merit. Engagements of opera companies in Ohio cities are constantly growing in length and importance."

"Eight Ohioans have won international fame as composers. About a score of men and women composers have attained national fame. More than 150 Ohio composers have published music of merit. Some of the living ones of these doubtless, will enter the musical contest which will take place after the lyric for the Ohio state song is decided upon."

The Know Ohio League is waging a campaign to sell Ohio to Ohioans this week.

LOWDEN CHOICE OF DR. BUTLER

Columbia President Gives Out Statement Backing Governor In Race

New York, May 23.—Republican politicians today were discussing the probable effect of the statement of Dr. Nicholas Butler indicating that he favors the nomination of former Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, for president.

Lowden he declared, is the only candidate who has had the courage to take a strong stand on the farm relief question.

The statement follows, in part: "We are approaching the close of the most disheartening pre-convention campaign within my memory. No candidate for the Republican nomination, with the exception of Mr. Lowden, has ventured any statement whatever as to his position in regard to any one of the vast problems so important to the prosperity to the honor, and to the influence of the American people. Instead, we have had an exhibition through the press and the mails of an application to politics of the most obnoxious development of modern business, to wit, salesmanship."

"Friends of some of the candidates seem satisfied to put the presidential nomination on the same plane as a patent medicine or a suburban real estate development. With this, the infantile amusement of straw-ballooning has gone on side by side. It is almost unbelievable that at such a time such a condition could be found to exist in the Republican party."

CHANG'S TROOPS ARE VICTORIOUS

Telegraph communication between Peking and Tientsin has been severed and details of these clashes are lacking. Japanese troops are said to control the railroad between these two cities.

ORDER RESTORED IN MINE BATTLE

Unemployed Union Men In Clash with Employees Of Corning Mine

New Lexington, O., May 23.—Order has been restored at Corning today, following a free for all battle between unemployed union miners of Perry county and two employees of the Sunday Creek Coal company who clashed early today at the Mid-Hocking mine near Corning.

Several heads were bashed in the melee, and several shots were reported fired, though no serious injuries resulted.

Colonels Shettler and Andrews who were sent from Columbus to represent Gov. Donahue, left here at noon for the scene of the trouble, after Sheriff McNabb had quelled the disturbance.

Four miners, Ed Jones, Paschal Jones, John Gail and Pearl Brown, this afternoon filed charges of shooting to kill against Louis Powell, Nelsonville, superintendent of the mine, and charges of assault and battery against Joe Reynolds, Corning, Powell's assistant.

The union men are said to have marched upon the mine when 15 company men were sent to the mine today to begin operations preparatory to resuming operations.

According to reports, the unemployed men surrounded Powell and Reynolds. Powell it is said displayed a gun firing several shots, when a general fist battle ensued. A 14-year-old member of the unemployed group is said to have been injured.

McNARY-HAUGEN

opinion of the attorney-general. The veto message which President Coolidge sent to congress a year ago on the first McNary-Haugen bill determined the measure in the strongest terms Mr. Coolidge ever used in a public paper, and the message today repeated most of those arguments and added new ones.

"Cruelly deceptive to the farmer," "fantastic," "unworkable," "price-fixing fallacy," "encouragement to profiteering," "wasteful distribution," "governmental spying and policing"—these were but a few of the stinging descriptions applied to the measure by Mr. Coolidge in the course of his long message, despite the endorsement of the bill by such economic authorities as Vice-President Dawes, Frank O. Lowden, and others who were instrumental in pushing it through congress.

Six Specific Objections
Generally, the president said, he had six specific objections to the measure. "A detailed analysis of all the objections," his message stated, "would involve a document of truly formidable proportions. However, its major weakness and perils may be summarized under six headings."

"1. Its attempted price-fixing fallacy."
"2. The tax characteristics of the equalization fee."
"3. The widespread bureaucracy it would set up."

"4. Its encouragement to profiteering and wasteful distribution by middlemen."
"5. Its stimulation of over-production."

"6. Its aid to our foreign agricultural competitors."

"These topics," he continued, "by no means exhaust the list of fallacious and dangerous aspects of the bill, but they afford ample ground for its emphatic rejection."

TRY TO ORGANIZE NEW MINE UNION

Bellaire Meeting Also For Purpose of Reaching Wage Basis

Bellaire, O., May 23.—An organization to succeed the United Mine Workers of America in eastern Ohio and to reach a wage agreement with coal operators of that section, was the object today of 300 miners, representing 42 union locals as they met for the second day session in Bohemian hall, here.

The session opened yesterday by the "save the union" group of miners which seeks to bring the Ohio district of the miners' international to agree to a wage less than the $7.50 per day Jacksonville scale.

Bitter denunciation of the officers and policies of the United Mine workers of America featured the convention, it was declared. Decision to form a separate organization in this section to "parley" with the operators for employment, followed the attack on the union of locals, according to reports.

Election of officers and announcement of the new organization's policy will take place today, at the second day session of the "special convention" called by the dissatisfied members of the union in this section, it was said at the meeting yesterday.

LINDBERGH

Some of its members remain to be chosen and its personnel has not been announced.

No Plane Is Selected

This committee will lay out and pass upon routes that eventually will connect with the transcontinental line. In due time, officials of the company say, a network of air-rail routes all over the country will be in operation, these feeder lines connecting with the main New York-to-Los Angeles route.

It has been decided that three-motor planes, capable of carrying 12 to 14 passengers and their hand baggage, will be used over the transcontinental route but no make of plane has been selected. The tri-motored Fokker monoplanes, the Ford tri-motored all metal passenger air transport and the Boeing tri-motored passenger transport are among the possibilities.

Lindbergh was eagerly sought this morning for details of his plans. He was in seclusion, however.

Alta's Ocean Hop Rumors

Airplane stocks in Wall street soared this morning on the news that Lindbergh had entered the business field. Curtiss Aero jumped 10 points in early trading on the exchange to 130 and Wright Aero also made a 10 point advance to 178.

Lindbergh's acceptance of the position with the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., definitely disposed of rumors to the effect that he was making arrangements for a trip in June by air to Europe with intermediate stops in Labrador, Greenland and Iceland.

Even though Lindbergh would give no countenance to such rumors they were several times reiterated, even at a time when it was known that Lindbergh was in consultation with business men with a view of entering upon a business career. Lindbergh has several times expressed extreme annoyance over the publication of his alleged "plans" which subsequent events proved to be untrue and "hopped up" conjecture.

PLANE STOCKS SOAR
New York, May 23.—The rails were lower, while the motor, oil and industrial specialty stocks were irregular at the opening of the market today. Airplane stocks were strong. Wright Aero recovering 6 points at 174 and Curtiss Aero jumping back 8 points to 128½. Missouri Pacific down ½ at 270; Southern Railway down ½ at 158½; Union Pacific down ½ at 196½; and New York, New Haven and Hartford down ½ to 70½, while General Motors advanced ½ to 165½, as did U. S. Rubber ½ to 41½. General Electric at 155½ and Radio Corporation at 173 were each up ½. American Can lost ½ at 88½.

The airplane stocks and the motors were the leaders in a brisk rally of stock prices in the early trading today. Curtis and Wright Aero responded with 10-point jumps to the official announcement of Col. Lindbergh's affiliation with the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., as technician; these advances restored about half of yesterday's losses and the stocks were active in the first period. General Motors rose 2½ points in the lead of the motor shares.

Weekly freight car loadings topped the million mark in the last period reported by the American Railway association and showed an advance of 23,300 cars over the previous week. The business and industrial reports were generally favorable, the Dodge statements showing April building construction contracts the largest of any month in American history. Copper and oil prices were firm, with active buying in the domestic market.

Many of the big traders were again ready to buy stocks. General Motors and American Can carried the burden of the advance in the market favorites, motors selling above 188 and can at 90, up 1½. Studebaker and Chrysler recovered about 2 points each; International Nickel rose 3 and Radio 3½.

Trading slowed up in the second hour and a good portion of the early advances was lost. Dissatisfaction over the four-hour day was widely expressed in the financial district and the governors of the exchange are expected to make an announcement on the subject later in the day, probably ordering a return to the 3 o'clock closing next week.

TOMB OF KINGS MAKE LINKS IN EGYPT'S HISTORY

Royal Personages Hitherto Unknown Emerge From the Past

Cairo, May 23.—Royal personages of ancient Egypt hitherto unknown have emerged from the obscurity of the past with the piecing together of the history of the Pharaohs, who built the Giza pyramids in the fourth dynasty, said Dr. A. Reiser, director of the Harvard-Boston expedition in a lecture at the American University here.

The first clue of importance was the discovery of the secret tomb of Queen Hetep-heres I, mother of King Cheops. The importance of this information was greatly enhanced by the discovery of the tombs of her granddaughter, the red-haired Queen Hetep-heres II and the latter's daughter Queen Meresanka III.

Red-haired Queen
The red-haired Hetep-heres II married three times and lived to a ripe old age. She survived her daughter Queen Meresanka III who died suddenly at the age of 55. Her mother ordered a magnificent rock tomb to be built. This tomb which took about nine months to build contains carved statues, reliefs and inscriptions of the most famous sculptor of that period, while the wonderful colors which to this day remain so vivid, were laid on by the painter Rahav.

From these queens, the whole royal family tree of the fourth dynasty has been traced. This was before the rise of the great Egyptian civilization, this period standing as a landmark in its history as the beginning of Egyptian culture. The previous dynasty had been those of nomadic men who used weapons of wood, bone and stone.

Now came the discovery of the practical use of copper for tools and weapons. With the political organization of the land which shortly followed came the development of arts and crafts. Writing was invented.

Sculpture was developed from a crude system of brick and wood into limestone and later still into granite. Thus began the long line of monuments which made Egypt famous.

The pyramids themselves mark the culmination of the great creative period in Egyptian culture. After this the pyramids and tombs became merely a wasteful expenditure. Funerary embellishments became a serious drain on the country's resources.

Enormous sums were spent on the building of magnificent tombs to house the spirits of the dead and on provision to feed the whole dead population of the centuries. Large numbers of people were maintained in idleness merely to recite prayers for the dead.

This system later on broke down completely. Wealth became more evenly distributed. The power of the governing family went to pieces and a more socialistic administration took its place.

Mrs. Sophia Arners, 87, died Wednesday morning at her home in Petersburg. A complication of diseases was given as the cause of her death.

Mrs. Arners, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Beight, was born April 2, 1841 in Springfield township.

Surviving are her husband, Henry H. Arners, one brother, Isaac Bright. Her parents preceded her in death several years ago. Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Lutheran church in Petersburg with Rev. Gramlich in charge; interment in the cemetery there.

DESERTIONS HIT PUPILS' STRIKE

New Boston High School Student Body Demand Teachers Remain

Portsmouth, May 23.—Ranks of the striking pupils who walked out of the Glenwood High school, New Boston, yesterday as a protest against the action of the board of education in not re-employing three of their favorite teachers, were weakened today by the desertion of 15 of the striking students who returned to their classrooms this morning, according to an official of the school.

Board members refused to comment on the situation.

Pupils alleged "politics" was responsible for the board's decision. Principal B. B. Higley, Miss Martha Pollitt, English and mathematics teacher, and John E. Quick, auto mechanic and radio teacher, are the three members of the faculty whose re-employment the students demand.

The 150 boys and girls, practically the whole student body, paraded in New Boston yesterday, carrying banners inscribed "We want Higley."

POUR CONCRETE ON SALINEVILLE TO LISBON ROAD

Concrete will be poured on the Salineville-Lisbon road June 4, it was announced today by County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk, although McCann & company, of Columbus, contractors who did the grading, have not completed their work.

The county commissioners and Mr. Kirk have informed McCann that unless the road is completed as to grading immediately, the work will be done by the county and charged against the McCann contract and its surety.

Surfacing of this road has been awarded to Mellert-Weidner company of Medina, who have two other surfacing contracts in this county. The latter include that section of the East Liverpool-Youngstown road between Williamsport and Rogers and also the section between the Cox Highway south to Middleton. The latter contract was awarded this firm a few days ago. It is proposed to complete the Salineville-Lisbon road on or before Sept. 15, and equipment is now enroute.

One Striker Dies

Rosario, Argentina, May 23.—One person was killed and several injured in a strike not here just before the dock workers strike was settled.

Waseda university, in Tokyo, is to have the first theatrical library museum in all of Asia, and the first such building anywhere, dedicated primarily to William Shakespeare save for the Shakespeare memorial at Stratford-on-Avon.

UNAPPED AREA OF NEW GUINEA OFFERS RICHES

One of Last Parts of the World to Be Explored Says Geographic

Washington, May 23.—Few countries of the world offer the fascinating interest either to scientists or laymen as the vast island of New Guinea, according to a review of its history issued by the National Geographic society.

In spite of its imperial dimensions, only the continental island of Australia and the Arctic island of Greenland being larger among the islands of the world, New Guinea is one of the last parts of the earth to be explored.

"Its pestilential swampy coasts, jungled-bordered rivers, mountainous interior and savage population have kept the island as it was when it emerged at the dawn of history," the National Geographic said.

How It Was Named

The island first was discovered by Portuguese and Spanish adventurers of the sixteenth century. The old sea captains are said to have given the island its name because of the fancied resemblance of its people to the natives of Guinea on the African coast.

Later Dutch and English succeeded to the claims of the first comers. At present New Guinea is roughly divided into political halves by the 141st meridian of longitude. The part facing Borneo and Java is under Dutch administration while the rest is governed by Australia.

Australia has long had charge of the Papuan coast near her own shores, but the northern portion, formerly a German colony, is administered as a mandate under the League of Nations. Thus Australian rights to New Guinea are of two kinds, those prevailing in her old regions and those arising from the mandated territory north of her own possessions.

According to the Geographic the British and Dutch portions of the island are alike in having little known and comparatively untapped interior.

Studied By Experts
"Native life," said the Society "long has been an object of serious study to scientists and racial experts. There seems to be considerable variation among the tribes. But in general way it may be said that they are dark in color and with kinky or frizzly hair, rather than brown or yellow and straight-haired, as their Malay or Polynesian neighbors to the east and west."

"New Guinea natives have for years been considered particularly backward and ferocious, having often accused of head hunting and cannibalism. Along the coast in some places they live in rude huts, built on piles above the water. There are island tribes who for the sake of protection dwell in communal 'long houses' of enormous size."

"In the far mountains of the interior is found a pygmy race of black men whose culture is that of the stone age. On account of its altitude their homeland is often cold, yet they wear no clothes beyond loin coverings. They keep no domestic animals and do not weave, spin or make implements except of stone."

BUT TWO STATES HAVE NOT NAMED GOP DELEGATES

South Dakota Delegates
For Lowden; Democrats
Backing Smith

TEXAS SITUATION
SOMEWHAT IN AIR
Florida and West Virginia
Have Yet to Select
Rep. Delegations

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
Washington, May 23.—The delegates who will comprise the Republican and Democratic national conventions have to a large extent been selected.

Two states, Texas and South Dakota, acted yesterday. South Dakota will send a Smith delegation to Houston, and a Lowden delegation to Kansas City.

Two Republican delegations will go to Kansas City and engage in a contest, one instructed for Hoover, the other uninstructed. The 40 Democratic delegates from Texas are listed in the doubtful. The Texas situation is somewhat muddled by controversy and internecine strife.

This leaves but two states, Florida and West Virginia, yet to choose their Republican delegates. West Virginia holds her primary on May 29.

Slower to act, the Democrats of six states, Florida, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia, are still to select their delegations. With the exception of West Virginia, this Democratic territory is largely unfavorable to Gov. Al Smith.

Smith's Total Is 612
Results in the states that are yet to act will not materially affect the existing lineup in either the Republican or Democratic races. The West Virginia primary on May 29 will be important more from the moral effect than from the mathematical. Smith or Reed will get the 16 Democratic delegates, and either Hoover or Senator Goff, the favorite son, the 19 Republican delegates. In any event the result is not expected to make or break any candidacy.

Gov. Al Smith's delegate total as of today is figured in the most reliable tables in Washington at approximately 612 or 122 short of the necessary two-thirds. His supporters claim enough reserve strength among the favorite son delegates to nominate him on the second or third ballots, and even the "last-ditchers" against the New York governor are disposed to admit the correctness of the claim.

On the Republican side, the tables compiled here give Hoover as of today a delegate total of approximately 568, included in which is the full Pennsylvania delegation of 79, but none at all from New York. If these figures can be made to stand up, they mean that the cabinet candidate will go to Kansas City with but two score votes standing between him and the nomination.

See Contest On Votes
There is, however, considerable controversy over these Hoover figures, the Lowden people in particular insisting that Hoover has been too generous in his claiming. They are not yet disposed to admit that he will get all of Pennsylvania's 79 votes.

In most cases, Hoover has the so-called organization with him in these southern contests. The national committeemen, some of them negroes, have been supplied with funds from the Hoover war chest, as brought out by the senate's investigation into campaign expenditures. Should the national committee throw out any appreciable number of these contested Hoover delegates it may have an important bearing on the final result.

New Hardened Steel Requires Little Oil

Paris, May 23.—The dream of motorists and aviators—steel cylinders that defy wear and require little oil—has been realized, according to Monsieur Leon Guillet, director of the Ecole Centrale.
"The metal is given superior durability by nitrogenizing it," said M. Guillet. In view of the tests to which he said nitrogenized steel already has been subjected M. Guillet foresees the opening of an era when aviators will be enabled to easily follow the trans-Atlantic trail blazed by Lindbergh while auto races will exceed the recent speed record of Ray Keech.

3,265 Mile Highway, Atlantic to Pacific, Ready for Tourists

Washington, May 23.—Westward, in the path of empire, along routes traversed by the pioneers of America from the Atlantic to the Golden Gate, and including, in the Ohio valley the longest stretch of practically straight road in the country, United States Route 10-40 crosses 14 states, and offers to the transcontinental motor tourist a panorama of the mid section of the country that epitomizes the westward expansion of the nation from Colonial days to the present.

Details about this route have just been issued by the bureau of public roads of the Department of Agriculture. From its eastern terminus at Atlantic City this highway following for 3,265 miles the same course or one closely parallel to that of the earliest settlers of the Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri valleys. It touches on the two great gold fields of California and Colorado which accelerated so greatly the settlement of the western half of the continent. It traverses also the Mormon settlement in Utah, the great pioneer agricultural experiment sponsored by Brigham Young.

From Wilmington, Del. to St. Mary's, Kans. the highway is paved for the full distance, 1234 miles. From Salt Lake City to San Francisco—890 miles—it is surfaced. Less than 14 per cent of its length is unpaved. This road, designated United States route 40 by state and federal highway officials runs a central course through the country. East of the Rockies the road is passable the year around. In the passes of the Rockies and in the Sierras it has not proved feasible to keep the road open in the winter and the route is not to be depended on from October 15 to April or May.

Federal aid has played a large part in the improvement of this road. The United States government has contributed nearly $18,000,000 to its improvement. Federal aid projects on this route include 760 miles of pavement, 725 miles of surfaced road, 132 miles of graded road, and more than four miles of bridges. Although not yet completed, the highway is everywhere in passable condition except when blocked by snows in the mountains.

Mandell Too Good, So Rickard Drops Him For McLarnin

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
New York, May 23.—They say that nothing succeeds like success, but an epigram like that is good only as long as the inevitable exception and the old-oaken moss-covered, iron-bound minority report are out somewhere playing with their split infinitives.

Having eased that burden off my troubled conscience, we now will hasten to consider the sad story of Samuel Mandell, the lightweight champion. Samuel may be said to have been markedly successful in defending his championship title on Monday night. And does that mean he is to prosper in proportion to the success of his undertaking? Yes, indeed; it does not.

Mandell was so all-fired successful on the night that it looks as though he might have the rest of the summer quite to himself. He apparently fought himself right out of work.

Now, children, let us pass along to the next picture. What do you see? That's right, Constance; you see a man. Is the man big? No, the man is little. Was the little man successful on Monday night? No, the little man was very unsuccessful. Is the little man winking at you? No, the little man closed his eye by mistake on Monday night and now he can't open it. Would the little man wink if he could? Undoubtedly.

NATIONAL RACE REMAINS TIGHT

Brandt, Boston Rookie, Is Day's Hero, Granting But Three Hits

New York, May 23.—The contenders in the National League race are moving around these days faster than apartment dwellers on the first of October, getting in first place and out again with an agility comparable to that of the well known Mr. Finnegan.

St. Louis in fourth place, trails the league-leading Reds by only one game today, and Cincinnati has lost the same number of games as Brooklyn, in fifth place.

Cincinnati took first place away from Chicago yesterday by nosing out the Pirates, 5 to 4, while the Cubs suffered their third successive setback compiling a winning streak of 13 straight victories. Despite Hack Wilson's ninth homer of the season, the Bruins were beaten by the Cardinals, 3 to 2, on Roettger's single in the eighth.

The Giants, comfortably settled for a long stay in New York, stand a good chance of establishing themselves in first place during the next two weeks. The New Yorkers have Brooklyn's number. They trimmed the Robins yesterday, 9 to 5, for the fourth time in as many starts this season. Five Brooklyn boots ruined Dazzy Vance's pitching.

Big Ed Brandt, Boston rookie southpaw who specializes in low-hit games, looms as the best pitching find of the season. The Seattle Dutchman held the Phillies to three hits, two of which came in the ninth and won by a 3 to 1 margin.

The Boston Red Sox are paying dearly for stopping the Yankees on Monday. The Yanks simply slaughtered them yesterday, 12 to 4, collecting 22 hits including Ruth's 13th homer and Gehrig's seventh. Stanley Coveleskie, the ancient spitballer who is making a grand comeback, turned in his third straight victory.

Connie Mack shook the moth balls out of Eddie Collins' uniform and sent the veteran to second base in the Washington game. All Eddie did was to drive in the tying and winning runs in his two times at bat. Al Simmons, recovering from rheumatism, finally got into the game as a pinch hitter and smacked a far from rheumatic triple. The A's won in the eleventh, 7 to 6, bringing to life the ancient wheeze about Washington being first in war, first in peace and last in the American League.

Johnny Mostil personally conducted the White Sox to a 4 to 3 win over Cleveland. He got three hits, scored all the way from second on a wild pitch by George Uhle, and made 11 put outs and one assist in the field, equalling the world's record for center fielders.

Heilmann's homer featured Detroit's 6 to 3 victory over the Browns.

FIGHT RESULTS

New York—K. O. Phil Kaplan, New York middleweight, kayoed Pinky Mitchell, Milwaukee, (4).
Paul Berlenbach, former lightweight champion, scored technical knockout over Larry Estridge, New York negro, (7).
At Wilmington, Del.—Mickey Blair, Camden, N. J., featherweight, awarded newspaper decision over Tommy Murray, Philadelphia (8).

Hasseepfeffer. If the little man doesn't feel like winking today, he ought to have the other eye closed for him.

Figures On Terris Bout

But James McLarnin, the unsuccessful candidate at Monday's lightweight election has a sense of humor and so he will wink almost involuntarily as he considers the fact that they are busy at this moment trying to match him into plenty of money. Our Mr. Rickard is not taking the winner of Monday's championship and sending him along after bigger and better purses. He is placing the loser in that spot, the idea being that Mandell simply was too successful to bother with from now on.

"I have nothing in mind for Mandell," said our Mr. Rickard today, "but I figure on dropping McLarnin in with a lightweight or two during the outdoors season, to bring him back with Sid Terris."

Although he didn't say as much, it is believed that our Mr. Rickard will want to get the winner of the Terris-Bruce Flowers fight and then sign him to a McLarnin contract. Then, according to the tentative program outlined, McLarnin, provided he gets by the Terris-Flowers winner, will be dropped in with Billy Wallace for a late summer attraction.

Meanwhile, where does Mandell come in? It seems that he doesn't. He fought a perfect fight, in fact, he made only one mistake all night but that one settled it. He was so ill advised as to prove that he was too downright good.

TITLE BATTLE IS ON TODAY

"Brown" stepped into a tie for first place with "Wellesley" in the High school girls baseball league by defeating Wellesley, 28-23, Tuesday. The championship playoff was to be held this afternoon between the two teams.

Roth, Stratton, Yeager, Barnes and Grafton, starred at bat, each knocking home runs.

Wellesley led the league throughout the four weeks of play, winning seven consecutive games, but recently lost three straight to drop back into the tie for first with Brown. The game yesterday ended the regular season.

FEDERALS BEAT METHODIST "9"

The Post Office defeated the Methodist church nine in the city "mush" ball league at Centennial park Tuesday, 16-9.

The Federals scored 10 runs in the first three innings, leading the entire game. The church outfit threatened in the eighth, but a rally was cut short after they had scored five runs. Scoring four in their half of the eighth, the Post Office clinched victory.

TEST FLIGHT OF PATENT AIRSHIP WILL BE JULY 4

Glendale, Cal., Inventor Has Craft Which Will Land Atop House

Glendale, Cal., May 23.—Aeronauts have long dreamed of the day when a lighter than air or heavier than air craft could land on a house top. On July 4 T. B. Slate of this city hopes to make the first flight in former type of airship. Slate's dirigible, "The City of Glendale," which he says represents a revolutionary departure from the orthodox methods of building such craft will leave its hangar on Independence Day and fly to Tangent, Ore., his boyhood home, according to his present plans.

Is All Metal

The new dirigible is of all-metal construction and is equipped with a 500 horsepower steam turbine designed by Slate involving a principle which he says has not been used before. The metal bag is 212 feet long and has a diameter of 58 feet. It has a gas capacity of 300,000 cubic feet.

In addition to 40 passengers, Slate says the "City of Glendale" will have capacity for a crew of five. The propeller will force an air column along a cylinder built through the center of the bag.

The inventor says the dirigible is being equipped with a patented elevator device which will enable it to land and take off without the aid of a mooring mast and claims he will be able to land passengers or freight on a hotel roof, in a city street, or on the deck of a ship at sea.

Has Steam Heat
The passenger compartment will be equipped with steam heat, radio service and dining room facilities. The inventor expects his ship to be storm and lightning proof. The cost of operation will be so low that Slate expects his rates to be no higher than railway fares.

Misfortune has dogged his efforts to build a dirigible. Twice wind storms have destroyed his models. During the war Slate was chief of a government experiment aeronautic station at Washington.

President Coolidge Endorses Sale of VFW Buddy Poppies

The annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. has been given unanimous approval by President Coolidge and in his message to the public, the nation's chief executive cites the double significance of the Buddy Poppy and its use on Memorial day. "It perpetuates and emphasizes a particularly fine symbolism," declared Coolidge, "calling to mind the supreme sacrifices of those who died in the service of our country."

"Such symbolism cannot but have its effect in inspiring us to sacrifices demanded of all good citizens in peace times."

"Furthermore, those who buy these poppies do something very real to help the disabled veterans who in making them are able to contribute to their own support."

"I would commend this movement heartily, and my hope is for its continued success."

even Benjamin Franklin post No. 605, in Paris, France, will distribute Buddy Poppies during the week of Memorial day.

The proceeds are used exclusively for welfare purposes, giving each unit the means of administering relief to veterans and their dependents in distress. The sale of Buddy Poppies also permits maintenance of service and diason work in behalf of the veteran seeking assistance or compensation from the Veterans Bureau. In addition a certain percentage of the funds gathered in this fashion is contributed to the V. F. W. National home at Eaton Rapids, Mich., an institution founded in 1925 and dedicated to the care of orphans of deceased veterans.

Allen Reynolds post has completed plans for the sale of the poppies.

"THE WAGON SHOW"

The life of the savant and the tank-bark is typically circus and that is the best definition to add to "The Wagon Show," Ken Maynard's latest feature which comes to the Grand tonight.

Ken with his many years' association with the largest tent shows of America featured as a stunt and trick rider has recreated the entire thing for "The Wagon Show." He personally supervised the technical end at the same time he re-enacted the part he played under the big top.

While "The Wagon Show" differs from the usual western it includes all of the thrills of this type and those expected and found in those dealing with the circus. Ken in one shot duplicates a trapeze stunt that won him the plaudits of thousands all over America.

The story was written especially for Maynard and deals with a small tent show traveling through Montana and Wyoming. It shows not only the glamor of the "big tops" but the trials and struggles these wandering troupers had. It is a combination of real drama and the fastest and most daring stunts Maynard has ever attempted.

The balance of the cast includes Marlen Douglas who has the leading feminine role, Maurice Costello, Paul Weigell and George Davis. Harry J. Brown who has supervised the making of all of Ken's pictures personally directed the making of "The Wagon Show." It is a first National feature.

"THE BIG CITY"

A sensational "holdup" of a New York night club, staged from police reports and newspaper accounts of a similar occurrence, is the big thrill given by Lon Chaney and a large cast as one of the details of "The Big City." Chaney's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle, coming to the State tonight.

The story, a vivid drama of city life in New York, shows Chaney as the chief of a group of gangsters in a plot of gangster warfare and underworld intrigue. Marceline Day plays the heroine, a shopgirl enmeshed in the plot, and James Murray the juvenile lead a young henchman of the gangster czar, Betty Compson. Mathew Betz, John George, Virginia Pearson and others of note are in the cast.

The holdup is staged in a replica of a famous night club in New York, with Virginia Pearson in the role of the effervescent hostess. A ballet, composed of a "hand-picked" bevy of screen beauties, trained by Margaret Burt, former Follies dancer, under the supervision of Tod Browning, the director, is one of the elaborate spectacles in this sequence.

The "holdup" is staged by James Murray and Betty Compson, who as masked dancers, force the guests to pass by, depositing their valuables on a table, a replica of a similar holdup in a night club not long ago in New York.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, May 23.—Matching the umbrella handle with the set of fancy jewels is one of the newest ideas brought out by Parisian novelty-makers. It is only another of the many developments of the ensemble idea which is fast invading every article dear to the fair sex.

One shop is showing an umbrella handle circled by a series of narrow silver bracelets set with colored stones from place to place, and similar bracelets of larger size are shown for the wrists. Sometimes it is the necklace or earrings which match the handle, all of beautiful and original design.

Umbrellas that are surprisingly small and short when closed but make a comfortable shelter when a spring shower falls, come with the curved handle of small size in ivory, exotic wood or horn. The smartest fabric for umbrellas this spring is taffeta with many fancy models in shaded stripes or plaid designs.

A two-in-one cane and umbrella combined is a great success with the men, for it has the rare advantage of not exceeding the average size and bulk of an ordinary walking stick.

In the strongest vaults in the world, situated in the Royal mint, London, bullion worth $350,000,000 is sometimes stored.

Fish Dishes For Cold Dinners

Fish dishes are always attractive for warm day cold dinners. There are many ways of making fish salads, the fish is generally cooked in the morning, cooled and then chilled and prepared at the last moment before serving. Again cold boiled fish is served with mayonnaise, the dressing made without mustard which makes fish or fruit bitter tasting when used.

Where canned fish is used remove from the can at once when opened, drain, then flake coarsely and place neatly on a dish, cover so the edges do not dry then set to chill. Serve with the mayonnaise or tartar sauce.

Salmon Salad Moderne

Boil two pounds of fresh green salmon, or use two large cans. Wash, boil, flake coarsely and remove skin and bones. Next put the fish through the meat chopper, also pare and seed a large cucumber, and put it through the chopper. Grate one good sized onion and mix it, with the juice, in the fish and cucumber. Dust with a little red pepper, add a half teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of sugar, three sweet pickled gherkins minced fine, and six olives also minced fine. Now add enough creamy mayonnaise to moisten, mould on a cold plate covered with chilled flat green lettuce leaves in a rolling mound, chill in the cold chamber of the ice box for an hour then garnish with pepper strips, deviled eggs and lemon quarters and serve.

Pineapple and Sardine Salad

Open and drain a large box of sardines put up in oil, remove skin and bone, and break in large pieces with a silver fork. Chop the meat of a fresh pineapple, drain and chill it. When ready to serve, add a minced red pepper, eight chopped olives, a tablespoonful of minced celery leaves, to the pineapple then add the sardines and only enough heavy French dressing to moisten. Serve in cupped lettuce leaves garnished with stuffed olives, and dusted with paprika. Serve bread and butter sandwiches with this salad cut in narrow strips.

Cold Pineapple Cod

Boil two pounds of fresh cod fish, taken from the shoulders of the fish, until done but not broken. Cool, then separate in large flakes. Lay the flakes on lettuce leaves, place spoonfuls of grated pineapple over them, garnish with deviled eggs and sprays of watercress, dust with a little red pepper and salt and then place heaping spoonfuls of heavy mayonnaise over all dusted with paprika. Serve tiny hot biscuits with the fish.

Tuna Salad

Put enough cold tuna fish through the meat chopper to make two heaping cupfuls. Add to it a large grated onion, two tablespoonfuls of capers, a cupful of finely chopped celery, and enough Russian dressing to moisten the salad well. Wipe the inside of the salad bowl with a cut bud of garlic, line it with alternate beet and green lettuce leaves, put in the salad, and garnish with strips of pickled beet and hard-boiled eggs cut in slices, or small quarter-shaped pieces.

BRITISH BANK HEART BREAKER FOR CRACKSMEN

Even If There Were Not Any Alarms It Would Take Over Year

London, May 23.—The newly built Bank of England reconstructed at a cost of $25,000,000 will be the "heartbreak house for cracksmen."

Pressure on one button will flood the bank; doors will weigh 18 tons, and yet a child could move them; and there will be miles of electric alarm wires.

While the business of the bank has been carried on as usual for the past three years, 50 vaults have been made surrounded by walls 50 feet deep and eight feet thick. Such are the provisions for safety that it would take 100 cracksmen a year to get into the main vault—even if there were no guards or alarms.

The main vault lies 50 feet below the ground. It is a room 60 feet square, which ten tons of dynamite and modern oxy-acetylene apparatus could not penetrate.

Strong Guards
The entrance to the vaults is stationed in "booby-holes" at various points of vantage, and so delicate are the alarms that a glove or pocket book dropped in a most unlikely place would stir half a dozen electric bells into activity.

The first obstacle to be overcome in obtaining entrance to the vaults is the penetration of a wall of solid concrete 50 feet deep and eight feet thick, each large block "keyed" to the other. Beyond this great wall is a long dark winding passage and zigzagging down it every few yards are "alarm spots" connected with bells.

Then there is a double door of steel grilles—two-inch bars of the finest steel, two inches apart. No key will open these defenses. They are worked electrically and the cracksmen who penetrated the 50 feet wall would find himself with a full day's work here. Even now the secret of the main vault remains intact. Here are two huge steel doors, riddled with keyholes—each door weighing 18 tons. So finely balanced are these blocks of steel that a child could move them with ease. They respond to the touch of a little finger—when unlocked.

When the massive locks and bolts are shot home dynamite enough to wreck the whole building would have to be used in order to burst them.

Beyond is what is to be the treasure house of the nation, and the person who puts one foot inside it will immediately summon two detectives.

Tunnel Defense
The remaining 49 vaults are on the second and third floor. On the second floor has been constructed a defense that will strike terror into the heart of the most daring cracksmen. It is a small tunnel—leading to a spot that only a dozen people know. It is a two-fold defense—against burglars and fire, for the pressure of a button inside the bank, at Scotland Yard—nearly three miles away—or at the house of the governor of the bank will send scores of tons of water hurtling through the gap to flood the vaults.

Miles of wires interlace the building, forming the most intricate alarm system in the world. Many new and secret devices which will not be used in any other building, have also been installed.

The bank is now the finest structure in the British Empire and is calculated to last 1,500 years.

Plan Monument To Man Who Gave Nickname 'Uncle Sam'

Washington, May 23.—Patriotic organizations throughout the country are being urged to back a movement launched in congress to erect a monument to the man who gave the world the sobriquet, "Uncle Sam."

To speed the movement, Rep. David Hogg (R.) of Indiana has introduced a bill appropriating $25,000 for the monument.

The monument would be erected at Merriam, Ind., where the original "Uncle Sam," who was Samuel Wilson, is buried.

The story of Samuel Wilson and the "nickname" is one which should be preserved for posterity, in the opinion of the Indiana congressman, Samuel Wilson, he declares, was a typical American and the sobriquet, first applied to the United States in ridicule has been adopted by the people all over the country who use the name with pride.

The original "Uncle Sam," according to Hogg, was of Scotch descent. He was born in Wilmington, Del., May 4, 1775. Infected with the pioneering spirit of young America, he joined the Lewis and Clark upper Missouri river exploration expedition in 1804.

He was next heard of as a sailor on the "Constitution" in the War of 1812. He won a citation for gallantry as a gunner on "Old Ironsides" in her historic battle with the British ship "Guerriere."

He left the sea but again entered the war in the Pennsylvania militia, and on his discharge from the militia he became a government inspector of provisions at Albany, N. Y.

It was his custom, says Hogg, to mark army provisions "E. A.—U. S." meaning from Elbert Anderson's story for the United States. A young soldier, however, is said to have told longshoremen that the "U. S." meant "Uncle Sam" Wilson. The story spread and eventually about 1844 cartoons appeared in English newspapers with a long, gaunt individual representing "Uncle Sam."

ridicule the rise of the United States to a world power, and the awkward figure wearing a high silk hat and arrogantly asserting himself was the cartoonist's conception of the United States, says Hogg.

Wilson is said to have taken the cartoons and sobriquet as a personal insult and he withheld the story of "Uncle Sam" until shortly before his death.

The ridicule is said to have been one of the reasons why he emigrated to Indiana to take up a land grant.

The Wilson farm in Noble country, Indiana, is still farmed by a descendant, says Hogg.
